AT MATH WORKSHOP -PART V

DATE: Wednesday, May 2, 2007

TIME: 4:30 – 6:30 p.m.

LOCATION: Mosser Elementary School
129 S. Dauphin St., Allentown

BRIEFLY: Mosser Elementary students and families will learn the methods of fun behind math at a free workshop presented by Mosser Teachers and Allentown School District's Math Coach. More than 200 parents, students, and teachers are expected to attend and play. This event will host the game "Are You Smarter Than A 5th Grader?" Parents and students will play against each other to score points. Using a Classroom Performance System, parents and students will be interactively answering test questions.

This evening will also include parents and students knowing their math facts and playing basketball. Shout for 2, 4, 6, 8...Mosser students are really great! Free pizza, soda and door prizes are offered to everyone who participates.

This is the fifth Math Workshop that Kim Walck, ASD Math Coach, has hosted and the turnout for these events is impressive! This math workshop also offers a daycare for parents with young children who want to spend quality time with their school aged children becoming familiar with the school's math curriculum. There will be computers, calculators, board-game and the new Math Investigation modules for parents and students to play together and practice basic skills.

"Our community's response to the Math Workshops combined with an increase in PSSA scores shows that teachers and parents becoming partners and working together can make a difference!" said Kim Walck, M.Ed., ASD Math Coach. "This is going to be a powerful evening where teachers and parents come together to strengthen students' skills by playing math games." Let me ask you, "Are You Smarter than A 5th grade Mosser Student?"
